Where did it all start?

The jokaydia Sim in August 2007

Aims & Objectives

Designed to provide a flexible and dynamic space for educators in Second Life which includes informal and formal meeting spaces, plus a range of interesting objects and tools to explore.

To explore alternative strategies for education and the opportunities virtual worlds offer for life-long, informal and social learning

To explore communities of practice in virtual worlds

Assisting new residents to gain competency and confidence in using the Second Life interface - whilst they are having fun!

Supporting mixed reality events, professional development activities and a range of educationally focussed projects

Our Community

jokaydia provides a home to a diverse range of educators and artists working in Second Life.

Our aim was to create an independent and supportive community of practice for all jokaydians

Countries represented include: Australia, New Zealand, Canada, US, France, Columbia

Organisations respresented includes: TAFE NSWand Kangan Batman TAFE (Vocational Education), Maquarie University& the University of Adelaide (Tertiary), Education.au (Professional Development), Hobart Senior College and St Joseph's College (Secondary), Online Therapy Institute (Professional Social Network)

Lessons from the experiences of pioneering brands
1. Integrate virtual world activities with normal business activities.
2. A successful virtual world presence requires an ongoing commitment from company staff.
3. Understand the "local culture," tap into local skills and resources.
4. Have fun, and make a contribution.
